TRANSCRIPT:

Ross: So, how was it, then?

Jackie: It was great.

Ross: What time did you get to Enniskillen?

Jackie: About eight o'clock I think, Yes, eight o'clock.

Ross: And what did you do on Friday night?

Jackie: We had a quiet night. We went out for food in a pub in the village and then went to bed quite early.

Ross: What time did you get up in the morning?

Jackie: We got up at about half past 8 and then we had a big breakfast

Ross: To give you energy for the day to come?

Jackie: Yes, that's right

Ross: So what time did you start out?

Jackie: We started out at about half past nine, I think

Ross: So what was the ride like? Where did you go?

Jackie: Well, first we cycled along the lake. It's really beautiful there. And then we cycled up through the forest.

Ross: Was it difficult?

Jackie: No, not really. We stopped for a picnic at about half past one. We were really hungry!

Ross: Where did you stop?

Jackie: In the forest. There are some beautiful views from the top.

Ross: And how long did the ride take you then? Five hours? Six hours?

Jackie: Well, we had a little problem after lunch. Alison had a puncture on her bike and we stopped by the road to fix it. That lost us about half an hour. Then we stopped at Castle Caldwell. We went to the café and had something to drink. We arrived in Belleek at about 7 o'clock.

Ross: 7 o'clock? Not bad! Were you tired when you got to Belleek?

Jackie: Yes, we were, very tired! And it was really nice to see Neil's dad and the minibus waiting for us. We all slept in the minibus on the way home!

Ross: But you had a good time?

Jackie: Oh yes, absolutely. It was a great day out.
